FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OnCall Debuts App for iOS and Android Devices: Experts 'On Call' Worldwide for Businesses and Consumers in Thousands of Specialties

OnCall, a fast and convenient way to hire experts in a variety of industries, announces its debut for iOS and Android devices.

This free download allows users to find experts (by topic or location), read ratings and reviews about these professionals, pay for services, and videoconference with an expert in real-time.

Expressive by design, and communicative in practice, OnCall gives people the chance to speak with experts in a detailed and comprehensive manner – anytime, anywhere.

"OnCall transforms the way companies and consumers get the answers they want – from top experts worldwide – with speed, convenience and personalization. We unite users with an ever-growing, global team of professionals, specializing in thousands of fields such as health and wellness, finance and real estate, information technology and tutoring, and law and accounting, among other key industries.

"Our app mobilizes mobile devices by freeing individuals from the limits of geography – they now have the chance to find and video conference with experts, in just a few minutes – so they can 'tap and talk' without having to leave this app. Our professionals are 'on call,' through OnCall, whenever or wherever you need them," says Brandon Xavier, Founder of OnCall.

About OnCall
